1. Construction of two strategic roads in Upper Slovenia is nearing completion. Both of these roads lead to the Austrian frontier; the first runs from Vojnik, via the Velenje coal mine, Sostanj, and Plesivec to Prevalje. The second extends from Kamnik via Gornji-Grad and Ljubno to Solcava.
2. The work was planned and initiated by a team of Soviet technicians who have since, however, withdrawn, leaving the completion of the project to the Yugoslavs.
3. Whereas the route followed by the first road coincides with an old road used for timber transport, the second is breaking new ground and is constructed purely for strategic requirements.
